

The Coast News

December 2, 2004

golfers of the 20th century.

She claimed her third U.S. Senior Women's Amateur in 2003, becoming the oldest person to ever triumph in that event.

In 2003, the U.S. Women's Soccer Team Players Association selected GoGirlGo — an Initiative of the Women's Sports Foundation — as its charity of choice.

In 2004, the U.S. soccer players earned the team's second Olympic gold medal in women's soccer, continuing two decades of pioneering dominance. In 2004, they will be pioneers on another field of play: the Tournament Golf Course at La Costa Resort and Spa. Team members will make history Dec. 10 through 12 as hosts of the first and only All Female Celebrity Charity Golf Tournament: The Ladies First Celebrity Golf Classic.

Join them and other female celebrities from sports, entertainment and business as they raise money and have a blast. Head out to La Costa to watch and/or play in the Celeb-Am with the celebrities.

It's a great event for women golfers who want to support a charity for girls, fans of women's golf, men and women who want to interact with the female celebrities and companies in the area who want to entertain their clients at a unique event in a way that most people can't.

Contact Jennifer Rottenberg at j.rottenberg@cccmg.com or through the Web site at www.ladiesfirstgolf.com.

Share your golf news with Sam Shank by e-mailing shank@the-coastnews.com.